RE: MB Docket No. 10-56

Dear Chairman Genachowski and Commissioners:

The Pennsylvania Association of Latino Organizations (PALO) is a statewide trade organization representing Latino community based organizations across the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Representing well established as well as emerging organizations that provide frontline social services and community development activities within the Latino community, PALO plays an important role in advocating and educating the private and public sectors about the issues affecting the growing Latino community in Pennsylvania.

Comcast is a strong supporter of our efforts. It is gratifying to us to see a company that clearly understands the issues of inclusion and diversity.

Americans today, especially in the Latino community, need to focus on keeping up with new technologies. It is no secret that a digital divide continues to exist in which too many of us still don't understand how to use or benefit from the Internet. Comcast is now a partner with several of our member organizations, working with some on technology and bilingual skills development to make certain that members of our community develop the necessary computer and Internet skills that will help them find high quality twenty-first century jobs.

Comcast also has helped provide Spanish language television to the Lancaster area. These channels provide a valuable linguistic and cultural bridge for the Latino community and is further evidence that Comcast is a company that understands that America is like a quilt—many colors, many sizes, all woven together.

It's reassuring that Comcast not only realizes that we need to end the digital divide but is creating innovative initiatives to see this effort through to completion. Based on our experience we believe Comcast proposed transaction with NBC Universal will result in even more opportunities for community involvement and technological development.

Sincerely,

Carlos Graupera
